Early Figures Show Student Increase

by Sue Fagin
Editor-in-Chief

Acting Dean of Student Services M. Catherine Taylor, reported that preliminary enrollment figures for the Fall, 1985 Trimester show a substantial increase in the student population at GSU.

The total number of students is up 397 from last year, at this time, with an increase of 11.3%.

The number of undergraduate students increased by 314, or 17.8%. Graduate enrollment gained 80 students, bringing that total up 4.6%.

Taylor stressed that the early figures are still not yet definite, pending totals from the three days of add/drop and figures from the Office of Special Programs.

"We are real excited to see the graduate enrollment up. We're excited about what we're seeing so far, but in reality it will be another two to three weeks before we have a definite sense of what the increase actually is."

Photography Show Draws Crowds

"This is probably one of the highest interest shows that we've ever had," said Paul Schranz, photography professor and director of Infinity Gallery at GSU. "Members of the GSU community and the surrounding area have been coming in all week to see it."

Schranz is referring to the current exhibit in Infinity Gallery, "Variations on the Nude: Alternative Photographic Works" by graduate students Patricia Gardner and Roger Paris.

Unusual in technique and highly emotional in content, the show has garnered praise from nearly all who have seen it.

"It is so refreshing to see something different being done," said photo student Debbie Trapp. "It is by far one of the best shows we've had in this gallery."

Since many of Infinity's photography shows are by professionals, the photography department is especially proud that such a successful exhibit is of student work. Schranz said, grinning from ear to ear, "We must be doing something right!"

Judging by the response to this graduate exhibit, the photography department must be doing something right, indeed. If nothing else, the instructors obviously encourage experimentation.

Both Gardner and Paris have sought alternatives to the straight photograph in their graduate work. Paris' hand-colored images and Gardner's photo sculptures introduce the viewer to contemporary experimental trends.

Using the nude as their vehicle for expression, both photographers deal with contemporary subject matter as well.

"My work relates emotions experienced by both men and women in my age group (28-40)," Gardner said, "although it is mainly from the women's perspective."

"Since the Women's Movement," added Paris, "it is acceptable for women to be more open and aggressive. In reaction to this, men have taken the right to be more gentle, vulnerable, and sensitive."

While it has been observed that Gardner's work seems more masculine and Paris' more feminine, Paris points out, "This is true by traditional standards, but the stereotypes of men and women are changing. I feel that our show is reflective of this change. I am portraying this new image of men - an image which is very positive."

Although the end result of their work may be a comment on our changing society, Gardner notes, "I think that for both of us this work has been an inner exploration."

"Variations on the Nude" runs until September 25. Infinity Gallery is located on the second floor in section E. Gallery hours are Monday and Wednesday, 4:30-9:30; Tuesday and Thursday, 1:30-9:30; Friday, 3-5; and Saturday, 1-5.

Activities Important

NOCR-Participation in extracurricular activities is the second most important clue in identifying potential managers, says an AT & T study. The under graduate major was the most important predictor with humanities or social science majors ranking highest in managerial skills.

Other predictors — grades or the quality of the institution attended — were less important. The study said grades are useful as a measure of intellectual ability and high work standards but do not relate to most other managerial characteristics. Attending a "high quality" institution is likewise no sign on its own of managerial success, although it might once have been. "Attending high quality schools has become less associated with motivational and personality characteristics that cannot be considered favorable for managers," the study says.

The study combined the findings of several surveys conducted over a period of 20 years involving both AT & T employees and others.

Some recommendations the study made to those recruiting management trainees:

- * Pay more attention to those getting bachelor's degrees at night while employed by the company;

- * Liberal arts graduates are excellent sources of general management talent;

- * Extracurricular activities can be an indication of a well-rounded educational experience. Engineering majors, for example, generally scored lower in interpersonal abilities, but an engineering major with student government experience might be an outstanding find.

Office of Student Life Saluted

Dear Editor,

I recently had the pleasure of attending the GSU Outdoor Folk Fest on Friday, August 16, 1985.

My friends and I thoroughly enjoyed this event. Sitting out on the lawn, relaxing on a summer evening and taking in the entertaining folk singers was a perfect end to an otherwise grueling week.

I am writing to bring this event, and others like it, to the students and staff of Governors State University. While there was a rather large crowd in attendance, there was still room for more.

I would like to publicly extend my congratulations and appreciation to the sponsor of the event, The Office of Student Life, and the members of its staff. You've done a fine job.

I look forward to many more events of this calibre.

Sincerely yours,
Meg Fenton

PERSONAL OPINION

Student Supports Economic Sanctions Against S. Africa

By Ronald Young

In the last issue I attempted to illustrate how supporting tyrants in third world nations has made the United States the vital bad guy in the touring company of the Moscow Political Circus. By becoming business partners of dictators and tyrants, we have driven multitudes of suffering people into the communist embrace. This strategy has been a dismal failure and Soviet influence has always been able to defeat it.

South Africa is a nation at risk. The tyranny of the minority government has become a debacle of beastly proportions. That nation is ripe for communist revolution. The ruling elite are only interested in maintaining the status quo, but the seeds of unrest will not permit that. The grotesque perversions of the South Africa government are too extreme.

American corporations are unholy participants in the exploitation of the situation. Our multinational corporations are the biggest partners of the ruling elite. It is in their short term interest to maintain the status quo. The policy of "Constructive Engagement" is nothing more than a smoke screen to do nothing at all about the deplorable situation. The scenario has been played out in Cuba, Nicaragua, and a host of other countries. When the peasants become desperate enough, they are forced to turn to communists for assistance. We always lose in these confrontations.

South Africa is located at a critical point on trade routes that are vital to the economy of western nations. In addition to that, it is a vital source of minerals to the United States. If we do not exert influence to bring about democcratic reforms, we will probably face a Soviet inspired revolution in that country. The loss of influence will have a terrible impact on our economic survival.

Economic sanctions are a painful, but desirable alternative to letting South Africa fall into the communist sphere of influence. If we can make the South African government see reality, we may be able to force democratic reforms before the Soviets can gain the initiative.

Democratic reform is a prerequisite to long term mutual survival. The stakes are too high to let profiteers and multi-national corporations to drag us into another communist trap. We must exert every effort to promote peaceful democratic reform. Economic sanctions may convince the South African government of the gravity of the situation.

Keys Still A Concern

In our last issue we expressed concern about campus key control, and did we hear about that one! Talk about "Pandora's Box!"

First let's set the record straight. We do not think the housekeeping staff are dishonest, and we never intended to give that impression. If we did we apologize. We were speaking of quantity not quality.

The more keys you have floating around, the harder it's going to be to control where they are. And the fact is there are a whole lot of keys floating around this campus. DPS has keys, PPO has keys, the dean's offices have keys. Everyone has keys.

Another fact: This office was robbed twice last December by someone who entered through a locked door, leaving no sign of forced entry.

I guess what we really meant was that what is needed around here is ONE and only ONE, unit that has a record of EVERY key and controls who has what.

When I took over from my predecessor here the change generated volumes of paper. We changed names on charge accounts, sent a signature card through the business office to change the Bookstore account, and filled out rafts of forms for the Coop Computer Center that does our mailing list.

When Thom's final day ended, he gave me a hug for luck and the office key. I signed nothing. Doesn't that seem odd? As far as we know, no one anywhere made a record of the transfer of that key.

We understand that PPO exercises extreme care and tight security in handling the master keys in its care. It is to be assumed that every agency that has masters uses equal care.

But there is no ONE CENTRAL CONTROL.

It is our belief that a Central Key Control is needed on GSU's campus and that it should, logically, be connected with the Department of Public Safety as part of their task of providing protection for GSU.

Who has the keys? Nearly everyone. Let's change that!

"Charlie Hustle" Does It

by Margie Owens

As we pay heed to the various media outlets that touch our daily lives, we are often besieged with an onslaught on local, national and international problems. We frequently hear of council wars, airplane crashes, the turbulence in South Africa and economic hardships facing Illinois and the nation.

Along with these ever increasing dilemmas, we have received a welcomed breath of fresh air—a moment of escape.

This escape has been provided by an energetic 44 year old man playing a boy's game.

Pete Rose has achieved and broken the record of one of the first Baseball Hall of Fame inductees, possibly one of the greatest ball players of all time, Ty Cobb.

It should also be noted, that in this day of pampered, often overpaid and immature celebrities, Pete Rose has continued to justify his nickname, "Charlie Hustle."

From Rose's first hit, over twenty years ago, to the hit that broke Cobb's record, Pete Rose has exhibited the initiative destined to give the spectator an all out performance.

We join the City of Cincinnati in their salute to this "new" baseball legend. Second Street, that runs along Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati, Ohio, is now known as Pete Rose Way.

This exemplary baseball player has provided us with a delightful interlude in a mass of otherwise bleary news.

We thank and congratulate Rose for showing us the desire, the hustle and the intense competition, all of which are hallmarks, not only of successful baseball, but of a successful America.

Pete Rose, we salute you.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

Those of you who have been around here for awhile will be aware that from time to time your editor permits herself a veritable orgy of self-indulgence and prints it under the euphemistic title of Random Thoughts.

You're way ahead of me. I can see that already. Here goes.

* Have we ever had a more prolific "nailer" than Senator Paul Simon? If he paid for postage he could wipe out the post office debts single-handedly. It was the same during the campaign. We never saw a release from Percy, but from Simon we could have prepared a wall, and our walls are two stories high.

* Isn't it something about all these planes crashing! I have a cousin in Boston I've been wanting to visit. How long, do you think, would it take to walk?

* Whatever you may think of President Reagan politically, and I don't propose to go into that here, you have to admit he's a remarkable person. He's what, 72 or 73? My husband had a simple gall bladder operation a few years back and was stuck in the hospital for two weeks. The president gets first a bullet in the lung then colon cancer, and he's out in no time. He must have a cast iron constitution and that's just fine with me. I hate funerals, particularly public ones. They tend to bring out the hypocrite in all the victim's enemies.

* I guess it had to happen sooner or later, but couldn't Ringo Starr have held off a few more years before becoming a grandfather? Talk about making you feel old! WOW!

* On the local scene, a few reminders.

* We created Club Corner to give campus organizations a chance to get the word out to the public. P.R. officers take note-free publicity is not to be sneezed at.

* Another department that people tend to forget is Worthy of Note. Its purpose is to give advance publicity to upcoming musical events. We welcome contributions and will even use a picture if you give us one; it's got to be b & w though.

* If you've always wanted to work for a newspaper, we have openings. If you qualify for work study and have had all the forms ok'd Dan Kreidler may be able to slot you right in. Our most urgent need at the moment is for an office manager/bookkeeper. Who knows it may be you!

* If anyone has any ideas for things they'd like to read about, movies they'd like to see reviewed, questions for Cafe Comments, or anything else you think we should know, you can call us at ext. 2140, drop a note in our mail box in the Student Life Center or pay us a visit at room A1801 across from the swimming pool. Just follow the smell of chlorine and moldy towels. You can't miss us.

* Don't forget the Arts Festival Sept. 26-28. It should be an exciting three days, and if it's well received this year, next year the big outside grants may become available so Push Arts!

* A belated (we're sorry) "Good Job" to Student Activities on gaining Campus Ministries and becoming STUDENT LIFE. Maybe the change in name will mean that other exciting things are in the near future. As someone once said: Watch this space for events as they develop.

* End of commercial. I mentioned our location. Well, our office is so humid ... How humid is it? It's so humid that the repairman wanted to know why we left the typewriter out in the rain. That's how humid it is! These are the jokes folks.

* On that note of deafening hilarity we close this round of Random Thoughts and leave you to appreciate the excellent writing quality of everything you have to read.

HAPPY FALL TERM EVERYONE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

As a student representative of the Board of Governors, I want to extend to all the student body a hearty, Hello, and welcome. If there is anything I can do for you, just ask. I am here at school in the Student Life Center each day and my office is there also. My office hours are posted on the door. Well, again welcome, and I am here for any students' requests. Good luck and go get 'em.

Respectfully yours,
Larry R. Lulay

Psychology & Counseling Club

The Psychology and Counseling Club will sponsor two events in September.

Dr. James Gross will speak on the subject "Who Am I," in the Honors Dining Room at 11 A.M., on September 25th. Refreshments will be served also. So join the club for ninety minutes of self-awareness and relaxation — and see what you can learn about yourself.

The Second Annual Psychology and Counseling Club Picnic will be held at the East Pavillion in Central Park, located in Park Forest, on September 28 from 11 A.M. to 5 P.M. The picnic is for the whole family, so anyone who wants to have fun is welcome. The East Pavillion is located next to the playground, so all ages can join in the fun.

Everyone bring one covered dish and a beverage; the club will furnish hamburgers, hotdogs and assorted relishes. Grills are provided by Central Park.

Maps, giving directions to the picnic, are available in the Psychology department and also near the Information Booth. So, before the bad weather takes over to keep us indoors, come join the Psychology and Counseling Club for the Second Annual Picnic in Central Park-East Pavillion-September 22 from 11 to 5. See You There!!

Center For Learning Assistance Offers Help

The Center for Learning Assistance (CLA) is an academic support program designed to assist GSU students to initiate, continue, or resume their post-secondary education.

People are important to the CLA, and we maintain a high degree of responsiveness to individual concerns. We recognize that many people encounter problems in school at one point or another and these problem areas are not necessarily indicative of the ability of the student. The program, supported by institutional funds, is of no cost to currently enrolled GSU students.

SERVICES
Fifteen-week non-credit WORKSHOPS are offered in Grammar and Usage, Composition, English as a Second Language, Arithmetic, and Algebra. Those workshops are designed to assist students to prepare for the University Competency Exams or to improve skill areas needed to complete course requirements. Diagnostic testing is required for placement into the appropriate workshop.

STUDY GROUPS will be offered in many course areas, including accounting, economics, English, algebra, calculus, statistics, and computer programming. These regularly scheduled weekly group sessions are designed for students needing course-related assistance.

A variety of print and non-print materials in skill areas is available for self-study. Using CLA SELF-INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS, students can work at their own pace to improve their skills in English, mathematics, spelling, library research, and/or studying and test-taking.

Designed to be used by students who do not need regularly scheduled assistance, DROP-IN HOURS are available in both skill and course-related areas. Appointments are necessary.

DIAGNOSTIC TESTING is available for students who want an assessment of their skill levels in English and mathematics.

The CLA is located on A Balcony, near the YMCA. Hours are Monday-Thursday, 9:00 am-7:00 pm; Friday, 9:00 am-5:00 pm, and Saturdays by special appointment. Our telephone number is 534-5000 extension 2238.

If you would like to learn more about the CLA, please drop in or give us a call. The more students we know, the better we can serve the GSU student body.

CLA Workshops

The Center for Learning Assistance (CLA) is offering workshops designed to help students prepare for the University Competency tests. The 15-week workshops, which are free to currently enrolled GSU students, will run from September 3, through December 12, 1985. 2238.

Students enrolling in the workshops must buy the required workshop text. Diagnostic testing is required for placement into the appropriate workshop. For registration information drop by the CLA, located on A Balcony, or call 534-5000, extension 2238.

MATH COMPETENCY WORKSHOPS Arithmetic Skills

This workshop is designed for students who need to review basic mathematics concepts. Topics will include operations with whole numbers, decimals, and fractions; percents; signed numbers; literal expressions; linear equations, and word problems. Weekly instructional time will include two hours of classroom time and one hour of self-instructional time. Additional tutorial time will be determined on an individual basis.

Class Meetings:
Thursdays 10 am-12 pm
Tuesdays 5 pm-7 pm
Self-Instructional Time:
Arranged

Algebra Skills

This workshop is designed as a refresher course in elementary algebra concepts, including signed numbers, exponents, linear equations and inequalities, operations with polynomials, factoring, radicals, and fractional expressions. Instructional time will include a minimum of three hours of classroom instruction and one hour of self-instructional time. Additional tutorial time will be individually determined by the instructor.

Class Meetings: Mondays and Wednesdays, 2:30 pm-4 pm
Mondays 4:30-7:30 pm
Self-Instructional Time:
Arranged

COMPOSITION FUNDAMENTALS

This is a workshop designed as a refresher course for students who need to review the elements of composition. The emphasis of the workshop is on the composition process: developing and supporting a main idea (a thesis), developing supportive paragraphs, organizing supporting information, and providing transition and coherence within an essay. Students practice by writing essays that prepare them for the English Competency Exam and their other college writing assignments.

Class meetings: Tuesday and Thursday 2:00-3:30 pm
Wednesday, 5:00 pm-7:00 pm
Self-instructional Time:
Arranged

GRAMMAR AND USAGE

Grammar and Usage is for students who wish to learn more about the basic principles of formal, written English. The workshop begins with a discussion of the differences between speech and writing, between informal and formal usage, and between academic and non-academic writing. The workshop then analyzes English sentence structure and analyzes the functions and interactions of sentence parts. The workshop examines questions of acceptable and unacceptable usages, for example, sentence fragments, comma splices, run-on sentences, subject-verb agreement, pronouns, modification, spelling, and many more. From this point, students construct sentences and paragraphs suitable for college level writing.

Small memories escape the restive mind.

They dart and soar to kindle desire for the past.

The force draws one inward,
and the journey begins.

The backroads of the memory beckon, innocent seduction, Escape.

Turn left at the horse drawn

Return to the poignant past.
Journey in the backwater of serenity.

A sentinel of sanity.
Dreams color the evening air with rare antiquities of warmth.

Quintessential youth rushes by

Hypnotic melody, wistful ballet

The Night Before Finals By Ronald Young

She reached out her gentle hand.

Across the endless expanse of time,

She touched me, sensually caressed my soul.

Gave succor to my rhyme.
Her verbiage flowed twixt my lips.

Like fine red wine, it strummed a soothing rhapsody.

The golden haired Muse
saved me.

Gave comfort to my knowledge.

Others too, had drunk from the leaden font of learning.

Others too, had struggled in the quest.

"I don't know what it is. I only know that it is important or I wouldn't have have remembered not remembering it, whatever it is. I can't remember. I must remember! Plumb the depths. Search the oceans of my mind. This thing. This unthing! It must be found! The infamous grade book pen is poised. It will skewer me on my foibles! It strikes paper with the impact of a mosquito being squashed. I'm too numb to see. Throw the dice.
Cast the card!

Flop sweat breaks out. The nefarious pen wavers in my mind. Then comes the muse.
She stays till dawn.

I don't know what it is. It must be important or I wouldn't remember that I forgot it.
Whatever it is..."

She reached out her hand.
Sensually caressed my soul.
Strummed a soothing rhapsody.
The golden haired muse
saved me.

Mississippi Bound on Graduation Day

Let me see the animals run-

Just feeling free, travelin' on

Let me have the water cleanse my mind.

I need to return to a simpler

Traveling with me. We'll see

Fish jumping to welcome the morning,

As a new day is born.

There is so much beauty
Unforeseen as we rush along.

We should take the time to notice,

Before the dark covers the dawn.

Before the concrete buries
the rabbit.

And the fish die from debris.

Before the birds forget the springtime

And become a haze memory.

We take so much for granted.
That we can't see it fading away.

Like summer turning into winter,

It seems to happen in a day.

We can share the beauty,
Or pave it from our fate.

For time is running with tomorrow,

And apathy is all that waits.

NEWS BRIEFS

Newsbriefs compiled by Margie Owens Associate Editor

SEX, VIOLENCE AND MONEY: These are the dreamsub-jects that separate American college students from their Chinese counterparts. Americans dream about them, Chinese don't, according to a study by a North Carolina psychologist. Students on both sides of the Pacific, however, dreamed about loved ones, flying, falling, arriving late for an appointment and being unprepared for an exam.

FIRST TWO BLACK STUDENTS. The first two black students to attend the University of Georgia-Athens are being honored by UGA with a lectureship in their name. The annual event will bring a prominent scholar or public official to campus to talk about race relations or black history. UGA has been criticized recently for a low percentage of black faculty and bad morale among black students.

SOUNDS OF SILENCE, a student group at Michigan State University, uses body language and balloons to give a visual representation of Top 40 songs. Performing for both deaf and hearing audiences, the group uses sign language and dance to express the lyrics. Balloons given to deaf viewers conduct vibrations from taped sings so they can "feel" the music.

CHEESE BAN. Dr. Bernard J. Tumock, Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, recently advised Illinois residents to beware of cheeses produced by Cacique Fine Foods of Industry, California. This advisory is based on an FDA warning that the cheese may be contaminated with the bacteria Listeria monocytogenes that causes Listeriosis.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DECLINE. Illinois traffic fatalities in June decreased 16.7 percent from June 1984 figures, according to provisional figures released by the Illinois Department of Transportation and Illinois State Police. There were 105 recorded deaths.

CHINA HIGHWAY. The first delegation of state officials and businesses from the United States to be invited to bid on or provide services for the construction of a major highway in China have toured the proposed 280-mile, $740 million road project. Illinois Transportation Secretary Greg Baise, who is heading the Illinois delegation, was accompanied by 26 persons representing a number of Illinois construction, engineering, management and material supplying firms.

JOBS NOW. The Department of Rehabilitation Services and the Illinois Jobs Committee for the Handicapped have unveiled a new JOBS NOW campaign and its toll-free number (1-800-JOBS NOW or 1-800-562-7669) to put employers in touch with a network comprised of pools of job-ready people with disabilities who are qualified in a wide variety of jobs.

AFRICAN AID. Governor Thompson recently unveiled plans for a statewide African famine relief program called Illinois Agriculture for Africa, bringing together Illinois citizens in the largest single-state effort in the nation. The program is a cooperative effort among Thompson's, the Illinois Department of Agriculture, and World Vision Relief Organization.

The Governors State University String Quartet will be among the 30 or so groups and individuals featured during the First Festival of the Arts at GSU on September 26-28.

The professional ensemble, believed to be the only one of its kind in the southern suburbs, will play a recital on Friday, September 27, at 6:15 P.M. on the lawn, near the entrance to the Music Recital Hall. Its appearance will be in conjunction with the reception for Canadian sculptor, Jeffrey Rubinoff, whose one-man show of steel sculptures is opening the same weekend. The musicians will be seated among nine cor-ten steel outdoor sculptures.

The quartet will perform Mozart's String Quartet in B flat major and another short work that is to be announced. In case of inclement weather, the recital will be inside the GSU building in the foyer of the Music Recital Hall.

Violinists Stephanie Meis and

Steven Bjella, violinist Robert Shamo and cellist Alan Rostoker are beginning the seventh season for the GSU String Quartet. They will present three free public concerts on campus this year. The Sunday afternoon programs will be on October 27, January 19 and March 23. The traditional climax of the season will be the President's Concert on the evening of May 14, 1986 to benefit the GSU Foundation's Community College Scholarship Fund.

The Festival of the Arts will begin at approximately 11:30 A.M. on Thursday and Friday and at 9:30 A.M. on Saturday. During the three days, there will be demonstrations, performances and exhibits covering nearly every aspect of the art world. All events will be free to the public, except for the professional jazz concert on Saturday evening.

For further information on the Festival of the Arts, call (312) 534-5000, extension 2461.

The Mississippi and Me by Jeanne Foody

The Mississippi and me
Sailing like we're free.
Looking for something We're never going to find.

So we'll flow on down aways
Singing to each other
On the sunny days.
And watch the birds
Make lazy circles in the sky.

I guess we both yern for the simpler times. When the water flowed free through the Countryside, and all the Animals still roamed free.

The Mississippi and me,
We still talk like we're free
As we move through the locks

And the dams. But around Every bend, even written in The sand, all we can see is
The intrusion of man.

By Jeanne Foody

There is a place in this world for each living thing

And if people don't listen and if people don't know

The song of man will be the next one to go.

IN THE CROOKED CORNERS By Lee Lyman

In the Crooked Corners
Let me sit,

Where the smooth Conform-ers

Do not fit,
There to watch the Clones,

(When they lose their places)
Searching through the Looking-Glass

To find their faces.

Illinois Veterans' Scholarship Eligibility Requirements Changed

The Illinois Veterans' Scholarship is now available to Illinois veterans attending Illinois state-supported colleges, universities, and junior colleges regardless of whether they had "Vietnam era" service. This is a change from previous policy.

Prior to the Fall 1985 term, veterans must have had one year of active duty, at least one day of which had to be prior to May 7, 1975, which is considered the end of the "Vietnam era".

This is no longer a requirement. Honorably discharged veterans who were residents of Illinois before initially entering active duty, who returned to Illinois and established residence within 6 months after discharge from active duty, and who served at least one year, regardless of when, are now eligible for the scholarship.

This change is effective with the Fall 1985 trimester and is not retroactive to previous terms. Veterans who have registered and paid for Fall 1985 classes can receive refunds by establishing eligibility for the scholarship and contacting the GSU Office of Veterans' Affairs to start the refund process.

Eligibility can be established by bringing your DD214(s) to the nearest State of Illinois Department of Veterans' Affairs field office, where you will be issued an ID card, if eligible. The GSU Vets' Office has the addresses of these field offices.

The scholarship now also covers certain fees charged to students, such as activity fee, graduation fee, and the BOG portfolio assessment fee for all eligible veterans. If you paid the activity fee for the Fall 1985 trimester during advance registration, contact the GSU Vets' Office for refund procedures.

If you have any questions regarding the scholarship, please contact the GSU Office of Veterans' Affairs at 534-5000, ext. 2126.

Financial

Footnotes

A number of tax law changes have been proposed, and I'd like to highlight a few of the changes that, if passed, could affect some of the investments featured in my previous columns.

First, let's look at the proposed changes that would pertain to individual retirement accounts. Current law allows a married couple with one employed spouse to contribute $2250 or 100% of the employed spouse's income, whichever is less. Although this amount can be split between accounts for both spouses, the combined limit is $2250. One proposal calls for this amount to be raised to $4000 or 100% of the couple's combined income, whichever is less. This obviously can be a tax advantage for married couples if one spouse is not employed. It gives an additional potential deduction of $1750, and many couples will welcome this increased benefit.

A more negative proposal that would affect IRA owners is one which would raise the penalty for early withdrawals (before age 59½) to 20%, rather than the current 10%. Current law waives the penalty in cases of disability or death. The Reagan tax reform plan would reduce the 20% penalty to 10% only for individuals who need to tap their IRA money to pay for a dependent's college expenses, to purchase a first residence, or to replace unemployment benefits during employment. This stiffer penalty situation requires investors to think more carefully about committing money to an IRA program.

Also of concern to many investors are the laws that affect custodial accounts set up to shift income from parents to children.

The Uniform Gift to Minors Act has been used by many parents to accumulate money for college, or other future expenses of their children more rapidly than if the money had been retained by the parent and the earnings had been taxed at the parent's higher income tax bracket. Under the president's proposal, unearned income of a child under age 14, derived from property given to the child by the parent, would be taxed to the child at the parent's marginal tax rate. However, the first $2000 of the child's unearned income would not be subject to tax because of the child's personal exemption of the same amount. In addition, if a child is over the age of 13, all unearned income would be taxed at the child's lower rate. This still leaves three or four years during which the parents can make gifts and effectively shift the income tax burden while accumulating funds for college.

This proposal is only aimed at custodial accounts funded by the child's parents. Therefore, grandparents and others can continue to contribute to UGMA accounts with all earnings taxed at the child's rate. It would be necessary, however, to maintain one account for amounts contributed by parents and a separate account for amounts contributed by others.

It will be interesting to see which of the tax proposals, if any, are enacted as currently written. Most of them are scheduled to go into effect on January 1, 1986. However, it is very unlikely that the final votes will be cast on these proposals before that time. In the event that the changes become official during the first few months of 1986, they will most likely be made retroactive to January 1. To have effective dates occurring in the middle of the year would wreak havoc with tax preparation. Watch the news for reports on these proposals and the many others which will be considered.

Social Work Prof Publishes Book

UNIVERSITY PARK—A textbook by a professor of social work at Governors State University has been published.

"Social Casework Intervention with People of Color" by Dr. David R. Burgest of the College of Health Professions (CHP) faculty was released during June by the University Press of America.

Burgest was editor for "Social Work Practice With Minorities" published by Scarecrow Press in 1982 and is the author of numerous articles.

A member of the faculty at Governors State since 1972, he spent the 1980-81 academic year as a visiting professor at the University of Nairobi in Kenya.

Prior to joining the Governors State staff, he served as assistant professor of social work and assistant director of student affairs at Syracuse University, as associate professor of psychology at the Upstate Medical College of the State University of New York (SUNY), and as chief social work director for the Central State Hospital in Milledgeville, Ga.

Burgest has been a consultant to social work agencies in Illinois, New York, Ohio and Georgia, and has presented papers and workshops throughout the United States, in Canada, in England and in Kenya.

His degrees include the bachelor of arts degree from Paine College, the master of social work degree from Wayne State University, and the doctor of philosophy degree from Syracuse University. He currently is engaged in post-doctoral studies at the University of Chicago School of Divinity.

"Social Casework Intervention with People of Color" is available in the GSU bookstore. A reception with the author is planned for later this month.

Dow Jones Offers Internships

Application requests for the 1986 Dow Jones Newspaper Fund Summer Internships are available from the Innovator office. The deadline for application requests is October 31, and for applications is Thanksgiving.

Dow Jones offers a total of 60 internships in two categories. Fifteen minority scholarships for College Seniors include a paid summer copy editor's job for $1,500 to apply toward graduate school or $1,000 to apply to repayment of student loans for those not planning on attending grad school.

The Newspaper Editing program for College Juniors involves a $1,000 scholarship and a summer editing job.

Interested students may contact the Innovator at extension 2140 or stop by the office in A1801.

Mini Basketball Registration

Registration is now open for Mini YMCA Basketball at the YMCA at Governors State University, Rt. 54 & Stuenkel Road, University Park, IL. This program is for 1st and 2nd grade boys and girls who are interested in having fun while learning the fundamentals of basketball. Emphasis is on fair play and learning, and on playing, not winning. There are no tryouts or cuts—every player plays at least half of every game. Registration is open until Wednesday, September 25, 1985. The first practice is on Saturday, September 28th. For more information, call the YMCA at GSU at 534-5800.

Theology For Lunch Speaker Change

The speaker at Theology for Lunch on Tuesday, October 15, 1985, at 12:00 Noon, will be Rebecca Paquette, BA, Psychology, graduate student in counseling, College of Education, Governors State University.

The previously scheduled speaker, Chaplain, Brig. Gen. Jeremiah J. Rodell, USAF, Ret., will participate in the program at a later date.

The topic will be "The Stress of Re-Entry: Returning to School."

SATURDAY AT THE "Y"

Through a special cooperative arrangement between Governors State University and the YMCA, a comprehensive recreational program exists for students, staff, and faculty at a very reasonable fee. Students holding the YMCA membership may use the gymnasium, pool, and handball/racquetball court at "open" times. Additionally, YMCA staff provide supervised programs in such activities as physical fitness, gymnastics, karate, judo, ballet, scuba diving, pre-school program, pre- and post-natal exercise programs, and other activities in which an interest is shown.

A special program of intramural activities is available each session for different sports.

During the 1984-85 academic year, students may obtain a YMCA Activities Pass for $4/semester with a valid GSU ID card. Family memberships are available for students and their families at a discount rate of one-half the standard YMCA family membership fee.

Contact the GSU/YMCA office in A Wing for further details. The phone number is (312) 534-5800.

Employee of the Month

Mary Smith
Physical Plant Operations

Mary Smith, a building service worker with Physical Plant Operations, has been named September Civil Service Employee of the Month. Smith has been employed by PPO since March, 1979.

According to Smith, she enjoys her job because seeing things shiny and clean gives her a satisfied feeling.

Smith likes working at GSU because she, "works with a group of beautiful people in CAS who help keep things neat so I have time to do extra jobs."

Smith and her husband, LW., have been married for 37 years. They have two daughters, a son and three grandchildren. Her husband's support has been very important to her working.

The Employee of the Month's hobbies include a love of flowers. She adds to her garden each year, hoping that one day her flowers will overflow her yard.

Concluding, Smith said, "Thanks to everyone at GSU, for helping and to CAS for being so good to me."

Workshop Scheduled

"Pregnant Children: A Community Concern" will be the topic of a one day conference sponsored by the GSU College of Health Professions and Aunt Martha's Youth Services Center.

The program will be held at the Harvey Holiday Inn, 17040 South Halsted. It will begin at 8:00 A.M. and conclude at 4:00 P.M. The $20.00 registration fee includes materials, lunch and coffee breaks.

The major areas of concern will be prevention, pregnancy and teen parenting. Speakers will include Dr. Bernard Tumock, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Cooperating sponsors include the Chicago Heights Health Departments, the Cook County Department of Public Health, the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services, the Family Service and Mental Health Center of South Cook County, the Harvey Board of Health, the Illinois Caucus on Teenage Pregnancy and the Park Forest Public Health Department.

Further information and registration details are available through the Office of Conferences and Workshops at GSU, (312) 534-5000, extension 2436.

ANSWERS

1. New Year's Eve
2. Madge
3. "Play it again Sam," was not said by Rick Blaine (Humphrey Bogart) to Sam (Dolley Wilson) in "Casablanca." Ilsa Laszlo (Ingrid Bergman) gets him to play "As Time Goes By" by saying, "Play it Sam." Rick later says, "You played it for her, you can play it for me ... If she can stand it, I can."
4. Born Leslie King, Jr.; name changed when his mother remarried.
5. Danny Thomas, Actor

FAMOUS LAST WORDS FROM FRIENDS TO FRIENDS.

"Are you OK to drive?"
"What's a few beers?"

"Did you have too much to drink?"
"I'm perfectly fine."

"Are you in any shape to drive?"
"I've never felt better."

"I think you've had a few too many."
"You kiddin, I can drive with my eyes closed."

"You've had too much to drink, let me drive."
"Nobody drives my car but me."

"Are you OK to drive?"
"What's a few beers?"
